Cindy, Yeah, I talked to Dad Sunday and he sounded pretty good. Aunt Louise had called saying she was worried about him because when she talked to him the day before, he said he wasn't feeling well, and when she tried to call them on Sunday, she got no answer. She was afraid he'd gone back to the hospital. Louise sounds OK, but says she's in a lot of pain. She underwent some tests, but they found nothing other than arthritis. She says she doesn't drive anymore because it's too far to walk to her car. Last week Carol and I went out and bought an aluminum martin house and a book on purple martins and shipped it to Dad. Carol was worried about him and thought he needed something to occupy his mind. He sounded pleased with it when I talked to him on Sunday. I am sorry I didn't get to see Ross wrestle. Congratulate him for Carol and I. Carol is at a job interview tonight with Volunteers of America. It is a social work position. The hourly rate at her temp job just went up to $18 and the job she is interviewing for only pays $12 an hour. But the temp job will end at the end of April. Steve
