Dear Deb,

Thanks for the pictures. Are you using the scanner at work? I need a color printer and a scanner. But I can live without it. I am thinking of quitting my job, so I have to curtail my spending. I'm not getting along with my boss and don't care to put up with the aggravation. I think I'll get a job as a bagger at Meijer. Or maybe a greeter at Walmart - more appropriate to my age. I have just 2 years and 10 months to go before I can get a full pension and I'm making $53,000 a year, but I'm a dinosaur. I haven't kept up with the latest in computer languages, etc. I may go to the big boss and tell him find me another position.

I don't understand what the problem is with Mom and Dad. What is he doing now that is causing her so much stress?

See you in a few days.

Steve
