

February 14, 2001

Carol,

Happy Valentine's Day, sweetheart!

We had our meeting. Ron gave me a little memo which I'll bring home. It says there seems to be a big difference between his view of my performance and mine, so we will do it again in 60 days. He agreed that I have not received any supervision from him. He said he respects my abilities and shares Ann's opinion that I have shown talent and expertise in the procedures I have written so far.

He did say the bonuses are related to the reviews, so the new review may make a difference.

He gave me some information on the code I was supposed to have changed. I need to investigate further, but so far it looks like I could only have picked it from a list of legal codes. It is the reason code for an account adjustment and it is related to a refund.

See you later.

Steve