Alan and Brigid,

Tonight at 7:30 at Fenner Nature Center, Sam Febba will present a slide show on Brazil. Carol and I are going and we thought you might also be interested. The presentation is part of an Audubon Society meeting. The business part of the meeting is at 7:00. It is open to the public.

Also, from 4:00 to 6:00 today at Woldumar Nature Center, there will be a class on survival in the wilderness, focusing on finding water and making it safe to drink. I am going to that. It is free, apparently.
