

3/05/04

So, Laura, what is the story on the cats?

I've never heard of Indian Head Lake, but I know there is a couple of lakes south of Sleeping Bear. It would be nice for me to see something I haven't seen before.

We took a trip to Petosky last weekend. We had a gift certificate for a classy old hotel, Stafford's Bay View Inn. It was a nice place to stay, but we could only afford it in the middle of winter. Not much going on in Petosky. They don't even plow many of the side streets, which means that a huge number of the homes there are used in the summer only.

Why do weddings have to be a big deal? Damn women.
(Did that sound like Dad? Or Walter?)

Carol and I would like the comfortable bed.

Steve