Aunt Nina,

Yeah, removing that tin can did make my day. I wish I could have taken the little guy home.

No, I haven't tried to find Thelma. Carol told me you called and then I think we both assumed the other would follow up. Neither of us did. Where is she living? Please give me what information you have.

I also just noticed today that I forgot to respond to your note about the IQ ratings of the presidents. Yes, I would like to see that list.
