Lois,

Nothing new sent to the Board today. But I think the next one will be about how my suggestions got buried.

I'm missing only 2 board email addresses now, Ray Klosowski and John Ogden. I figured out Dennis Murphy's because the domain name is the same as yours: worldnet.att.net. On the MERS website, they've spelled it worldnett.att.net.

I'm glad your canoe trip went OK. You should have done it earlier this summer when the water was higher. There is a little shallow river called the Cut that runs between Higgins and Houghton Lake that I've canoed several times, but when I tried last summer (or was it 2 summers ago?), it was so low I had to turn back. I wonder if it is back up.
