

September 23, 2004

Walt,

Yes, I can start my social security, but I'm going to hold off as long as I can. I've heard that starting early is a bad idea if you plan to live past 80.

Yes, I got fired from another job. Somehow, I seem to rub people the wrong way. It's fun. I've been sending emails to the Board - stories about crap that goes on there. So far, no response. I am also working on an anti-MERS website. Nothing in it yet. Carol and I are going to see a lawyer Monday for reassurance that I won't get sued and lose all our life savings. She is such a worry wart. Look at www.mersdirt.com.

Steve