Hi. I think Tulane and the Garden District are both considered uptown. St. Charles is the boulevard that runs from the central business district all the way uptown. There is a street car track down the middle.

On election day, I'll be collecting signatures to ban dove hunting. It is supposed to be cold and rainy.

We saw "Ray" today. We enjoyed it. Jamie Fox was very convincing. I didn't really think about it until it was over, but it could have been rated PG. No cussing, no sex. But it did have drug use. Ray was a heroin addict for many years.

Warm and very windy here today. I almost got hurt. I was mowing the lawn, and a tree fell down right where I'd been seconds earlier. I would have got hit by branches if I hadn't run when I saw the shadow of it falling behind me.

Christmas in New Orleans sounds good, but it will hard to get away. Last time we went, it was after Christmas, for New Years.

Did you get "America, The Book" back? Have you read any of it? My mother is reading "Against All Enemies".

Love, Dad
