

December 26, 2004

Ashtyn,

We saw a rabbit tonight in the moonlight near our deck. Earlier today, we noticed that the snow was packed down around some bushes there, but we couldn't see tracks leading to those spots. I think the answer is that the rabbit is living under the deck. And he is probably eating the bark off the bushes.

What's new with you?

Grandpa Steve