Ash,

We went to my sisters house in South Haven on Christmas day. She and her family now live in the farm house I was brought up in. My mother lived there until last year, when she moved to an apartment in town. My sister and her husband farm and run 2 little roadside produce markets (in the summer).

New years eve, we went to Clara's for dinner with another couple and then they came over to our house and we sat around and talked until midnight. Pretty boring. That's the trouble with getting old - you have to hang around old people. I kind of wanted to go out and listen to music and breathe second-hand smoke.
