Jason,

I read your accounts of the 2 fishing trips. I let Grandma read the first one. She made no comment.

Did you have a hired guide on the first one? Where is Trail Creek? In Michigan? I've never heard of it.

As I told your mother, you are a good writer, and it helps to have some interesting adventures to write about. I really enjoyed both stories, especially the second. I sent that one to Tom and Amy.

Keep on writing, and please send me copies!

Steve
