Tom,

I am pleased that you got out. A few years ago, I did quite a lot of reading about Scientology. I got a lot of information from the xenu.com website and read the books "A Piece of Blue Sky" and "L. Ron Hubbard: Messiah or Madman". It amazes me that the government lets them get away with what they do. I suspect that it is because the U.S. is much more religious than other western nations, and the various religions look out for each other. They figure that if the government starts messing with one of them, they might be next.

Now that you are out, you should write a book about your experience.

Love, Dad
