Cindy,

Yeah, I had it spelled wrong. This time, it seemed to go OK.

I bought a new book called "A Guide to Michigan Sand Dunes. It was written by the same guy who wrote "50 Hikes". I think I like it better. It includes information on hiking trails. Copyright date is 2005. It describes a township park called "Laketown Beach" that is less than a mile north of Saugatuck Dunes State Park. It is at the end of 142nd Avenue. It has a large dune that towers 240 feet above Lake Michigan and a stairway up it that cost $75,000 to build.
