

April 24, 2007

Judy, Nancy, Chuck and Cynthia,

I went on the Waterpocket Fold trip with Escalante Canyon Outfitters the first week of April. It was a good trip. Weather was beautiful - around 79 during the day, 40 at night. We bathed in a stream each day. I went again so soon because my 50 year old sister Laura wanted to go, and early April fit with her schedule on the farm. We had the same 3 guides - Grant, Doug and Serena. There were 10 hikers - a bigger group than normal. 5 of the guys knew each other from ski trips, etc. 4 of them were doctors, 1 was a malpractice lawyer. Another guy (Ed) had made some money early on in the computer industry. Among other things, he was head of research for Lotus for a while. Then there were 2 German sisters who had a horse farm in upstate New York.

There are lots of pictures on my website:

So what have you been up to?
