Lois,

What a wonderful honor for you! Congratulations. It looks like it was a fun celebration and a great trip.

Eleanore is in the hospital. She'd been getting short of breath while walking and feeling rotten in general, so yesterday she called Cindy. They went to the hospital and found that her pulse was only 38. They've done some tests and are keeping her on monitors, but haven't found the specific problem yet. They are considering a pacemaker. We should know more later today.

Saturday is Ross' (Cindy's youngest) wedding in Muskegon.
