Alan and Brigid,

When I really began to think about it, I realized that sharing accommodations in Florida may not be a good idea. Maybe we should get separate rentals. I think 2 couples in the same apartment could get difficult. Being locked into the same space with a spouse is bad enough, and having another couple there could make it worse. Carol does not disagree, although she's mad at me for not figuring that out sooner, before she spent hours looking for a rental for 2 couples. She was also hoping to get a nicer place for less money by sharing the cost.

If we could find separate rentals in the same area, that would be ideal. Then we could do things together when we want without having to live together.

What do you think?
