Dennis,

I'm sorry to say I don't remember you. What is your interest in MERS?

I took the Mersdirt website down last fall. I was getting no new information and had nothing to add to the site. There is some new stuff going on, however. There has been a small group of former MERS employees that got together for lunch over the last few years, and just recently a former MERS executive officer has joined us, and she is ready to do battle against Anne Wagner, the MERS CEO. She wants to collect a bunch of information and present it to the MERS Board. We sent a FOIA request to MERS a couple weeks ago and we should be getting the information in about a week.

By the way, I still have 2 websites. One is for personal and family stuff: www.stevharryssite.com. The other is for my campaign for House District #68: www.stevharryforstaterep.org.
