Thanks for the book! But you shouldn't have. I don't need anything. I just finished Obama's "Audacity of Hope".

I'm back to normal, but will continue taking blood thinners until October. I think it is just a precaution - they don't really know what caused those blood clots.

Carol and I picked up Mom and Aunt Shirley today and took them to a small family get-together at the farm in South Haven today. Both are doing well. Grandma is 92 and Shirley is 90. Nina must be 94. She's fine too, but has some trouble walking and doesn't like to leave the "assisted living facility". Grandma's problem is that she is bored.
