

Vote for Abraham

I recently had the unfortunate experience of seeing Senate Democrat candidate, Bob Carr's smiling face come across my TV screen. In his ad, Carr claims to have cut taxes for more than 390,000 Michigan families. I haven't seen a federal tax cut lately, have you?

He also accused his opponent, Republican Spencer Abraham, of taking care of the wealthiest 1 percent of the population, yet it was Carr, not Abraham, who has raised millions of campaign dollars out-of-state.

The truth is, Carr is a typical tax-and-spend Democrat. His vote brought President Bill Clinton's huge tax increase into effect. In his two decades as a politician, Carr has continually voted for more and more government waste and higher taxes.

Carr also claims that the federal deficit has been cut in half. How stupid does he think we are? Our nation's deficit is now close to $4 trillion, but Carr insists it has just been cut in half.

After decades in Washington, Carr will say anything to keep his job. He's afraid that all the perks he has enjoyed from special interests for so long will end in November. Let's make it happen. On Nov. 8 vote for change in Washington; vote for integrity; vote for someone who will make a difference for Michigan; vote for Spencer Abraham for Senate.

Voters not stupid

“How stupid does he think we are?” Kevin Loudon asks in a recent State Journal letter to the editor, reacting to Democrat Bob Carr’s claim that the federal deficit has been cut in half. “Our nation’s deficit is now close to $4 trillion . . .”

Mr. Carr probably doesn’t know how stupid we are, but some of us do know the difference between the national deficit and the national debt.
