Dear Shirley,

I went out to Laura's this afternoon to see Mark Thomas he is growing well, beginning to make noises other than crying. He is a carbon copy of David, expressions, dimples and all.

Bob sent me snapshots of his family and I'll send him mine. I will cover it for me the same two I am inclosing for you.

I never remember to take pictures and right now I doubt that I have a camera that works. Sally Pendergalt sent me pictures of her family this Christmas and asked a lot of questions about family. I answered most of them the rest would take sometime. I must send some pictures to her

The letter I am enclosing is one I started in my memory bank so I could make copies and I never finished but one to Kina. This was written soon after I got back here.

Eleanor + Site stopped for me and we went to the Union service - at English Lutheran Church tonight. Saw several people I hadn't seen in a long time.

I've taken care of Mark once while they stopped and the three once when the baby sitter had to leave and they weren't home yet.

with love,
Elva
