Dear Shirley, I am glad you had such nice weather for the homecoming. I thought of you often that day. Have been to Club today at Irene Spencers. I wonder if her mother was there in spirit. She thought so much of Club the first time we have been there since she died. Dad sits out by radio listening and sleeping. Janis fussing around getting ready to go to practice tomorrow. The three rural music teachers are putting on a cantatta Sat night at the Ag. show. It is Hiawatha. Is going to be pretty nice I guess.
Did I tell you we have a new calf. Two weeks old tomorrow. We are also getting a piano we and Corabell have one they bought of Capps now that they are with the older folks they have no use for it and we are getting it.
Dad is working to pay for it. Has worked two days and will again when they need him.
I suppose they will get it. Sam, Janis can hardly wait. I don't suppose it is real good but will do for her to practice on.
I am not sure I will send you anything this time. When Anna moves to Lacota I will be easier.

Will send Nana's letter. Don't her work sound interesting. Wouldn't I like to see and hear without being seen, when she is speaking to a group.

Janis party seemed to be a success. She had the house prettily decorated. We served doughnuts sandwiches and cider. Eleanor came over and helped with games for which I was very thankful.

I feel quite sure your ward money will be available by Christmas. Won't that be grand. It is $438.80 now and we think there are more orders in now. We know of one $10 as soon as the blanks come I am going to get busy. Good night. Mom.

I may come next week but don't count on it till I write again

SCHOOL TEACHER SUFFERS BROKEN ANKLE IN CLASS

Miss Marion Hamilton, physical education instructor in South Haven high school, has been absent from her duties this week because of a broken ankle.

The gym teacher injured her ankle two weeks ago while in class and treated the injured member herself as she was unaware of serious injury.

When time failed to reduce the pain inflicted, she had the ankle x-rayed, to find that one bone was cracked.
