Sunday night.

Dear Shirley. Just Dad and I here. Bob just went home with Elva. Janis at Deans. Elva is a widow now you know. How the wind whistles around. I rather like it tho. Makes the house seem cozy. Bob Janis and I went to Leisure to church this morning. They were having a special Armistice Day service. The band played. It was fine wish we could go there all the time. It would be better for Janis and Bob. Especially Bob as there are other boys to be with and their fine young minister should be fine for boys.

Eleanor and Pete were there. They were with Clyde and Marion, stayed with them all night. I should have sent your money yesterday I didn't get the order off till the second day. I had so much to do that next day. I like to take time to look things over. The order amounted to 12 dollars. you see we are helping your cause along. Had to get under wear and such. I told them to send the boots and breeches to you and the rest to Hobbie. Hope they dont mix it up.

I have an eats committee for club here tomorrow afternoon. I know it is going to be a terrible strain to dust on Monday. Oha is going to take Vera's place.

Poor Vera. They certainly are going through their Gelsenmanes. They are so brave, when one goes in they are just as usual tho one knows their hearts are full. Vera talks of her just as tho she were away for awhile.

She showed me a letter from Slim. I think it touched them more than any other letter or card and they got so many.

a nice letter from Bernice Cook who happened to see of her death in paper. I want to go over of lin. So far there has been some one there. She will always be a close friend to you in memory. Perhaps closer than had she lived for earthly friends of lin grow apart with the years.

There is such a lovely chapter on friendship in the cutters. I know trips and us will be closer friends because of Jean.

Dad is planning now on coming next Sat. Let us know if you are still wanting him.

I must go over to see Hazel about meeting tomorrow afternoon. Gie to much lunch.

Have had an easy day. Left for church before breakfast dishes were washed. when we got back dishes were washed and potatoes pared and meat fixed for dinner the easiest Sun I have had for some time. Janis and Elva even washed dinner dishes. Love Mom.
