Hi, I tried to send you an e-mail message last night, but there was a problem with the "server" that wouldn't let me compose a message. Today it seems OK. But I did not receive anything from you. Did you send me a message?

We've been out to breakfast and then shopping. I bought 2 new shirts and 2 new ties. My fashion consultant and I are both pleased. We went out to breakfast because we painted an acrylic finish on our dining room table this morning. We stripped off the old finish because it was becoming soft and cruddy from my oily skin.

We will be babysitting our newest grandchild this afternoon while her parents go on a family golf outing. She is about 10 months old and not used to being away from her parents. This is Doug and Becky's daughter.

The other 2 grandchildren like to visit their step-grandfather. Last time they were here, we took the canoe out in the river and picked up a bunch of stinky clam shells. They live up north, around Clare. Alick is 6 and Ashtyn is 4. Their mom took both of them to a parent-teacher conference a while ago and the teacher was going on about how bright Alick was and finally Ashtyn had enough and said "Well, I'm intelligent too!"

Well, I hope this gets to you.

Steve
