Editor, Newsweek:

I know I'm late with this, but I didn't get a chance to visit my favorite hiking spot - the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore - until a couple weeks ago. I suspected the picture on pages 52-53 of your July 5 issue was taken from Empire Bluff, looking north toward the Sleeping Bear dune and South Manitou Island, and that the picture was reversed. My visit confirmed my suspicion, as shown by the 2 attached pictures.
