

Sept. 26, 2000

Dear Amy,

Yes, I got them yesterday, in a big box. The calendar and the book were in their own boxes inside the big box. No wonder Amazon can't make a profit. Maybe it is because they were gifts.

I haven't figured out where to hang the calendar. It is a little off-color for work. But thanks, and quit spending so much money.

We saw "Almost Famous" on Sunday. We both enjoyed it. Goldie Hawn's daughter Kate Hudson is in it, and she is really cute. Good actor, too. She doesn't resemble Goldie much, except at one point she gives a mischievous smile and it is her mother's smile.

Carol is still haunted by the violent images in Nurse Betty. I think it is one of those "comedies" like Fargo that nobody would have laughed at if they hadn't heard beforehand that it was a comedy.

Love, Dad