Tom,

Thanks for the book. I'd already read it once and was reading it again, but it was from the library and I'm glad to own it. I don't own many books, but now I've got both "God is not Great" and "The God Delusion". Have you read "God is not Great"? While I was waiting for it to be available, I got another of Christopher Hitchens' books, a collection of essays. He is good. He is knowledgeable in many areas - politics, literature, science.

I got you something - the magazine "Colorado Outdoors". I ordered a 1-year subscription. It is bi-monthly and you won't get your first issue until late September. It will go to your new address, of course.

Love, Dad
