

June 25, 2007

Tom,

Hitchens talks a bit about Mother Teresa in God is not Great, but I'd like to read the whole story. He also wrote a book about Henry Kissinger.

Ross, Cindy and Max's youngest, is getting married next Saturday. The wedding is in Muskegon. We've reserved a motel room for Saturday and Sunday nights so we can explore Muskegon while we are there. They are supposed to have a great beach. We haven't planned any of our usual summer adventures because Carol can't do much. She can walk a mile if its not too hot, and canoe in quiet waters, but that's about it.

I'm creating a website for a fantasy campaign for state representative. It is within my steveharryssite.com site, under Political Essays. It is kind of fun putting together all of my ideas without having to make any real commitment.

Dad