

August 2, 2007

Thanks. I was looking forward to sleeping with the dog.

--- Tom Harry <tomrharry@gmail.com> wrote:

> Dad,
>
> If you'd like to stay with us, you can have Kelli's > bedroom and she'll sleep
> in the living room. That way there's no chance of > the dog interfering with > your sleep. Plus her bed is one of those > sleep-number beds where you can > adjust the softness with the press of a button. And > that room has its own
> private bathroom; Kelli can use mine at night.
>
> See you Saturday.
>
> Tom