

January 25, 2008

Sue and Grant,

I decided to run because I've always been interested in government and public policy. Now that I am retired and have the time, I can do it. I learned how to do websites a few years ago, so I do my own campaign website. A website allows me to make all my views known at a very low cost and without having to leave the house. I am running as an anti-union Democrat, which is pretty radical here in Michigan.

I don't know about Boulder, but the rest of the country seems to be falling apart. So what better way to do something about it than run for office.

Steve