Amy,

No books, no magazines. Carol and I can't even come up with anything to give each other. Give to charity. Or send food - nuts, fruit, exotic snacks. That's alway fun. When you get old, eating is the main entertainment.

We haven't started seriously looking for a place to stay in Arizona. I don't know how difficult that will be, but should be easier this year than past years.

We walked into a Circuit City last week and spent $2000 on computers. Got a desktop PC with a 22-inch flat screen monitor, a laptop and an all-in-one printer along with virus protection software, Microsoft Office and a wireless router. Now we don't have to take turns using the computer and we can take the laptop along on vacation. Circuit City's "FireDog" service is going to deliver and set up everything a week from Monday.

We've had a lot of winter here already. It came in mid-November and stayed.

Love, Dad
